

LECTURE SERIES

KANT AND CONTEMPORARY PHILOSOPHY

The lecture series Kant and Contemporary Philosophy at Ruhr University Bochum brings to light the relevance of Kant's critical philosophy for central issues in contemporary epistemology, ethics, political philosophy and aesthetics. The lecture series is jointly organized by KANTINSA - Kant in South America and by the Digital Kant Center NRW, project location Bochum.

Location:

Ruhr University Bochum,
IA 02/461

All sessions take place in a hybrid format.

Zoom link here

Meeting ID: 62220111143

Passcode: 857146

For more information about the organizers please see:

KANTINSA - Kant in South America:

www.kantinsa.eu

Project coordinator:

Luigi Caranti

Digital Kant Center North Rhine-Westphalia:

www.kant-zentrum-nrw.de

Project leaders Bochum:

Corinna Mieth and

Philipp Richter

Project coordinator

Bochum: Marie Göbel

LECTURES IN 2023

April 20 2023 | 4-6pm

Luigi Filieri (University of Mainz)

A Practical-Speculative Ideal:

Kant on the Highest Good

May 5 2023 | 4-6pm

Angela Taraborrelli (University of Cagliari)

Kant and the Definitive Third Article of Perpetual Peace: Right to Visit and Territorial Boundaries

May 25 2023 | 4-6pm

Anselmo Aportone (University of Rome)

Copernican and Other Revolutions: Some Notes on the Concept of Revolution in Kant's Thought

June 29 2023 | 4-6pm

Andrew Chignell (Princeton University)

The Primacy of the Practical:

Is Kant an Early Encroachment Theorist?